SUPREME COURT TO HAVE JURISDICTION

HOUSE ADOPTS CORNELL BILL
GIVING SUPREME COURT
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
IN CAPITAL CASE.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 30.—The adoption by the house Wednesday afternoon of the Cornell bill conferring exclusive and original jurisdiction upon the supreme court to hear and determine any action that may be brought involving the legality of the removal or location of or an attempt to remove or locate the state capital or any normal school or other educational or charitable institution, the way is now cleared for speedy determination by the legislature of the permanent location of the seat of government of the state of Oklahoma.

The senate placed upon its first reading the Cornell bill. It is expected that Thursday it will be put on its second reading and on Friday the bill will doubtless be passed by the senate. If the senate concurs in the action of the house in adopting the Cornell bill, all it will lack to become a law and in effect, will be the governor's signature, which there is slight doubt but that he will affix promptly. When this bill becomes effective no writ or other action will lie in the lower courts against any state official or other person for the purpose of holding up the location of the state capital.

According to the democratic leaders they do not intend that there shall be any technicality in the capital legislation that Guthrie people or others opposed to Oklahoma City being the seat of government, may by any court procedure delay or interfere in any way whatsoever of the immediate and permanent location of the capital.

The Legislative Program.

The program mapped out by the leaders, who favor Oklahoma City as the capital of the state of Oklahoma, is that the Cornell bill shall first

27x54 Axminster Rugs
Special $1.75

SMITH'S 203-5 W MAIN ST.

become a law before any act fixing the seat of government will be passed by the legislature. After the Cornell bill has been approved by the governor, the capital location bill will then be presented in the house and the senate for passage.

The capital bills are being discussed, dissected and threshed out in the democratic caucuses and the capital location committee. When all the differences that exist, if any do exist, among the democrats, have been adjusted in the caucus, the bill will be presented for adoption. If any speeches of opposition to the measure are to be made in the house, they will be by republican members. From the remarks dropped here and there by members of the legislature the sentiment is very strong for locating the capital at Oklahoma City. The only question that is dividing the majority of the members is the exact spot upon which shall be placed the capitol buildings and the method of selecting a site.

It is predicted that the special session will end next Tuesday or Wednesday. Should there be any hitch in the senate over the capital bill, or the house, for that matter, there is liable to be a delay of several days.

Status of Capital Fight.

Indications are that there will be no serious difference of opinion in the house regarding the capital bill. The house will adopt the original bill, leaving the appointment of the commission in the hands of the governor. In the senate the Maxey-Redwine measure, creating a commission of six members of the legislature which shall report to the body at its regular session has some support, but the friends of the administration measure claim that they have a sufficient number of votes to carry it through. At most it is expected that the latter bill can delay the settlement of the matter only a few days.

DECISION HITS BOOTLEGGERS HARD

Guthrie, Nov. 29.—The criminal court of appeals handed down a batch of decisions late yesterday, the most important being a reversal of its former holding as to the innocence of an agent for the purchaser of liquor who had no pecuniary interest in the transaction.

W. A. Buchanan vs. State, an appeal from Carter county, Judge Furman admitting in the opinion that the court in the case of Reed vs. State (3 Oklahoma Criminal Reports, page 11), was not the correct doctrine. W. A. Buchanan, a notary public of Durwood, Carter county, was arrested for violation of the liquor laws. The evidence showed that he asked Buchanan if he knew where he could get him some whiskey. Buchanan thought he did, and the man gave him 50 cents. Later on another man came and handed him a half-pint of whiskey, Buchanan having nothing to do with the transaction. The defendant below claimed that he was simply acting as the agent of the buyer and had no pecuniary interest in the sale. Under the Reed case, that would have been a good defense, but the court held that the Reed case was the incorrect theory and that when the statutes said "all persons concerned in the commission of a crime, whether it be a felony or a misdemeanor, and whether they directly committed the act constituting the offense or aid and abet in the commission are principals," that they had covered this proposition and that any person taking any part in the transaction was guilty.

As to the agency proposition, the court says, "the law of agency as applied in civil cases has no application in criminal cases, and no man can escape punishment when he participates in the commission of a crime upon the ground that he simply acted as the agent for any party."

Only two states in the Union, Mississippi and Alabama, are in concord with the decision, every other state that has passed on the matter holding that where the party is simply the agent he is not guilty, but the court feels that that theory gives the criminal too good a chance to escape punishment and that no man who aids or abets in violation of the liquor laws has any right to escape. The other cases handed down by Judge Furman, that of Lee Lub vs. State, following the Buchanan case.

Women Must Qualify to Vote.

In answer to a letter from the secretary of the Noble county election board at Perry, Attorney General West advised that women could vote for a high school, but that they were governed by the same rules as to qualifications as are males, and that they must register to vote. He also held that where a member of the township election board resided outside of the school district he could not legally serve as an election official.

POPULATION DRIFTING TOWARDS THE CITIES

Washington, Nov. 30.—The same tendency of population to gather in the cities at the expense of the rural districts is shown by the census returns from the states of Tennessee and Minnesota, made public by the Census Bureau today, as has been shown by the census returns of other states, both east and west. The present population of Tennessee is 2,184,789, as compared with 2,020,616 in 1900 and 1,767,518 in 1890, an increase of 164,173 or 8.1 per cent in the last ten years. There are ninety-six counties in Tennessee, and of this number thirty-six rural counties show a falling off in population in the ten year period. But only two counties showed a falling off in population in the census of 1900, as compared with 1890, as well as the present census as compared with the previous one. In other words, the tendency toward congestion of population in cities at the expense of the rural regions has only become marked in Tennessee in the last decade.

The present population of Minnesota, as reported by the census Bureau today, is 2,075,708, as compared with 1,751,394 in 1900 and 1,301,325 in 1890, an increase in the last decade of 324,314 or 18.5 per cent, and in the previous decade of 449,563 or 34.5 per cent. Of the eighty-five counties of Minnesota, twenty-eight show a falling off in population in the present census as compared with that of 1900. In many cases the loss is slight, but the whole showing emphasizes the general tendency of population to desert the farm and congest in towns.

Representation May Increase.

Tennessee's increase in population in the last ten years of only 164,000 is not enough to give her an additional member of congress, unless the new apportionment bill to be passed at the coming sessions allows additional members on the major fraction basis, that is, if the new basis of congressional representation is left at the present figure or lifted to either 200,000 or 250,000, Tennessee might be given an additional member because her population has increased by a figure more than half that of the new basis of representation. On such basis as this Minnesota's increase in population of 324,000 would entitle her, certainly to one and perhaps to two, new members of the house. The state now has nine members. Tennessee has ten at present.

Oil Strike in Childress.

Childress, Tex., Nov. 30.—Oil has been discovered on the farm of I. R. Leslie, in the northern part of Childress county. A local company has been organized and is making leases and preparing to drill several wells. The flow is good for shallow wells.

Jenkins Preliminary Trial Set.

Justice Brown has set December 8 as the date for the preliminary hearing of the John Jenkins case.

BUSY TERM OF COURT AT ALLEN

The regular term of county court, opening at 8 a. m. Monday, as usual, was somewhat strenuous, but lasted only two and a half days. There were eleven jury trials, some being double barreled, resulting in eleven convictions, one plea of guilty, and two acquittals. Five jurors and two witnesses were fined 50c each for being tardy one witness 25c and the bailiff $2.00 for not having court room ready at 8 o'clock. No fines were remitted and none were assessed after the first day. One witness was sent to jail—the Allen calaboose—for refusing to testify. All were booze cases that were tried. The county's rake off was $725.

The moral tone of Allen and Steedman somewhat improved, some of the joint keepers intending to move to Coal and Hughes counties, and the better element among them preparing to engage in legitimate business. Some bootleggers are still left, but it is hoped that the fear of the Lord may reach them also.

Following is the list of cases disposed of: Convictions, J. E. Sweetman, J. D. McElroy, Jim Broadus, Byron Estes (three counts) Robert Estes, Andy Blevins, F. Blevins, Earl Rice, L. L. Winterbower (plead guilty.) Acquitted Earl Rice and Henry Braden.

CRIMINAL DOCKET OF DISTRICT COURT

A number of prisoners have been confined in the county jail for sometime awaiting trial, and for their benefit an adjourned term has been set for the 12th and the cases docketed as follows:

- Monday, December 12th—
335 B. O. Broughton, false pretense.
331 John F. Ford, bigamy.
479 Earl Duren, giving liquor to minor.
477 Earl Duren, embezzlement.
Tuesday, December 13th—
383 Elmer Story et al, embezzlement.
384 Elmer story, adultery.
386 Pete Williams et al, larceny domestic animal.
436 Luke Jenkins, perjury.
483 Jack Johnson, forgery.
Wednesday, December 14th—
360 William McKellopp, forgery.
470 Jim Arbuckle and Ed Lancaster, burglary.
478 Jim Ivey, rape.

Herndon Pleads Guilty.

W. B. Herndon, charged with violating the city prohibition ordinance entered a plea of guilty yesterday afternoon and was given a fine of $50 and 30 days. The jail sentence was suspended, however, on recommendation of the city attorney, during good behavior.

NORMAL NOTES

The foot ball season has now closed, and all students are turning their attention to the basket ball team. Basket ball is fast becoming one of the most popular games of the Normal, and there is no reason why Ada should not be a strong competitor for the state championship this year. We lost only two games last year, and defeated every team we met. Considering that to be the first year of the school, this was no bad record, but this year should be still better. The first game of the season to be played at home will take place in the city hall Friday evening with the Tishomingo team. From all reports the Tishomingo girls are playing good ball now, and a lively game is expected. Of course the Normalites will win this game, but they are expecting no easy affair. A return game will be played in Tishomingo Saturday, December 10.

Some enthusiast at Durant suggests that an auto parade be given in celebration of the completion of the paving being done there. The Durant Democrat suggests, however, that from the present rate of progress airships will have taken the place of autos before the work is completed. Perhaps Ada can make use of the same airships and thus pull off a double parade.

FORMER ADA PUBLICATION COMANCHES AND APACHES HARD UP

Oklahoma Baptist Journal for Several Years Published by News Now Leading Denominational Organ.

Otis Weaver returned from Oklahoma City today where he has been this week in the interest of the Oklahoma Baptist Journal which, after being published at Ada for several years, was removed by him to Oklahoma City, where it has grown to be recognized as one of the leading Battist denominational papers. The name of the Oklahoma Baptist Journal has been changed to that of the Baptist Oklahoman and the Baptist Journal Company is being reorganized with Dr. A. J. Holt, president of the State Baptist Convention and a leading Southern divine, as editor and owner of the major stock of the reorganized corporation. The capital stock of the concern will be $25,000.
Mr. Weaver expressed gratification that the state Baptist paper which had its first and continuous publication in the News office during its necessary struggling period and which was only enabled to survive
through the Christian liberality of Rev. D. J. Austin, who edited its columns without charge, has now grown to become one of the leading journals of the Baptist denomination.

Wild Enthusiasm Reigns After Victory.

Wildest enthusiasm reigned supreme on the return of the victorious Sooner football team from Austin last week. The entire student body headed by the band met the gladiators at the train and the crowd amid yells and tumult, lifted seventeen pigskin chasers to its shoulders put them in a tally-ho, and with students pulling the conveyance they marched up town to the stirring strains of "I'm a Sooner Born." After parading Main street, a stop was made when the husky gridironers were welcomed home with fitting words and were called on to tell just how the victory against the mighty Texas Longhorns was won.
Such splendid support of its representatives in athletics, on the rostrum and in all college contests has always been characteristic of Oklahoma and is the main reason for the great showing the university has made against older institutions.

Lawton, Ok., Nov. 30.—The 3,500
members of the Kiowa, Comanche, Apache and affiliated tribes of Indians in Southwest Oklahoma are being faced by what they consider a serious calamity.

They have just been paid $70 per capita, amounting to nearly $245,- 000. The most of this money went to clear up back indebtedness, consequently they have little funds remaining. Lieut. Earnest Strecker, Indian agent at Anadarko, in charge of these Indian tribes, has sent out official notice to the seven licensed Indian traders that all general payments have been discontinued. This news has spread among all the banks, money lenders and merchants have cut off all the credit the Indian had both with the trader and outsiders. The individual lease money, which runs from $60 to $400 a year, was allowed the Indians upon written order of the agent at such times as is deemed best.

Even Quannah Parker was caught short of funds. He will shortly go to Anadarko to consult the officers
there and see what can be done toward continuing the old semi-annual payment system and the direct payment of the lease money.

Dr. J. F. Rowell of Cache, an influential squaw man, left today for Washington in the interest of the tribe, Quannah will later proceed to the National capital.

Cold Weather in Eastern States.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The maximum of the cold wave, the first general one of the season, now felt practically all over the country east of the Rockies, has not yet been reached.
Colder weather is predicted for tonight in New England, Eastern
New York and the South Atlantic and East Gulf States, while the Weather Bureau's indications are that there will be freezing temperature in North Florida and frost in the central portions of the state tonight. Storm warnings are displayed on the Great Lakes and on the New England coast.

The cold, it is predicted, will continue for several days over the Mississippi Valley and the Eastern states.
Freezing temperature has been reported as far south as in the interior
Gulf States.

TO SELL RED CROSS STAMPS

Dr. J. M. Postelle, president of the Oklahoma Anti-Tuberculosis Association made the following statement
concerning the sale of the Red Cross Seals sent out by the National Association for the study and Prevention of Tuberculosis:

"The National Association has appointed the 'Oklahoma State Anti-Tuberculosis Association' sole agent for the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals for the State of Oklahoma until March 1, 1911. It will be noted that the word 'seal' is used instead Red Cross Stamp because of the great similarity to postage stamps which caused a great deal of trouble to the Post Office Department.

We desire to get agents from every county in the state to handle
these 'seals' which can be secured by writing R. H. Riley, 323 Insurance Building, Oklahoma City, Okla.
Miss Elizabeth C. O'Donnell, Agent
Red Cross Stamp Fund last year, turned over to Mr. Riley, treasurer of the Oklahoma County Tuberculosis Association $574.51 to be used in local work.

"A Million for Tuberculosis" is the slogan of the 1910 Red Cross Christmas Seal Campaign. Every Anti-Tuberculosis Association and other organizations interested in the prevention of tuberculosis are urged to cooperate in this movement. The American Red Cross is to issue and furnish stamps as in former years, but the charge to local associations for the use of the national seals has been reduced from 20 per cent to 12½ per cent, which means that 37½ per cent of the gross proceeds from the sales go to local work.

As state above the stamps are to be designated as "Red Cross Seals"
this year, and are to be placed on the back of letters instead of on the front. All who are willing to assist in this campaign are urged to communicate with Mr. R. H. Riley, assistant secretary of the Oklahoma
State Anti-Tuberculosis Association,
323 Insurance Building, Oklahoma City. We want to thank the press for its valuable assistance in the past and to thank it in advance for any space it may contribute in the present campaign. We hope this will be freely copied by papers of the state.

FIXTURES FOR SALE

We're doing a good business and therefore hate to quit, but it can't be helped. On account of the sudden illness of Mr. S. Barack, of St. Louis, Mr. Gubin, who is in charge of this store, must return to St. Louis at once. His business interests require his presence there, and we must sell out. This large, fresh, beautiful stock of things to wear for men, women and children will be sacrificed regardless of cost or value. Here's the best chance the people of Ada ever had to get Shoes, Hats and Clothing for the whole family at next to nothing prices.

STORE WILL BE CLOSED

TO-MORROW TO ARRANGE AND MARK

...DOWN OUR STOCK...

The price of every article in the store will be greatly reduced— $\frac{1}{4}$, $\frac{1}{3}$ and in some instances $\frac{1}{2}$ off. We'll open Saturday morning with the greatest sales event ever held in this section of the country.

QUALITY is the thing of greatest importance in medicine. Without it the best efforts of the physician fail to produce the proper results.

Will Stay in Pontotoc County.

Sometime ago Judge L. C. Lindsey thought that on account of the owners of the place on which he lived near Fitzhugh intending to work it themselves, he would have to leave the county. However, we are pleased to learn that he is to remain with us. He has just bought the Kellis Hawkins place of 160 acres near Ahlosa and will look after that. He is in town today, called here by the illness of his wife.

Good day at Treasurer's Office.

This has been a record breaking day at the office of the county treasurer. Taxes to the amount of $752.71 have been paid in.

Did it Ever Occur To You

That perhaps you are making a mistake by not getting OUR PRICES before buying Lumber, Sash, Doors, Lime, Cement, Plaster, Etc., somewhere else? You are old enough to know that there's a mighty lot of difference in the quality of every one of these articles, just the same as there is in tea and coffee. And that there's always more or less difference in the prices, too. Then, as you can always get the most and best here, at the lowest prices, why aren't you making a mistake by not buying here? From where we sit, it looks like you were passing up a good thing.

RE-INTERMENT OF CYNTHIA ANN PARKER

Lawton, Okla., Nov. 30.—There is some doubt entertained among the close friends of Quannah Parker, chief of the Comanches, as to whether the grave from which a body was taken near Lonyon, Tex., really was that of Cynthia Ann Parker, buried years ago in the Lone Star State.

Before Parker went to Texas to return to Cache with the body of his mother, he made much inquiry among the Texas pioneers of that section relative to the location of the grave of Cynthia Ann Parker. Each claimed to know the exact spot where the grave was located, but no two agreed. There was nothing by which the coffin could be recognized.

Quannah Parker himself is satisfied as to the identity. He is attempting to keep secret the exact date and hour of the reburial of his mother's corpse. He states that the ceremony has taken place already, while others stated that the burial will be held Sunday, when Quannah Parker will deliver a funeral sermon. The coffin is now being held at Post Oak mission, four miles northwest of Cache, near Parker's home.

Coal! Coal!

We buy only the very best deep shaft coal. We could get strip pit and sell it much cheaper, but we know it would never be satisfactory with our customers when they tried it. We are in the coal business the year around and cannot afford to sell anything but the best.

We Give You No Slack.

We buy the highest grade supposed to be free from slack, but with the best care that can be given, some slack will be formed by the working of the load in transit. Now this slack is worthless for burning in stoves, so we handle it with forks, keeping back the slack and giving our customers only the good coal. It is something of a loss for us to do this, but we can save some of it by burning it under our boilers, while to the ordinary consumer it would be dead loss. When you buy of us it does not matter whether you get coal from the first of the car or the last, for all we send out is clean. We have our own coal houses with a capacity of 300 tons and try to keep a good stock on hand at all times. We also have our own delivery wagons ready to meet a call at a moment's notice.

Here to Stay.

We are not in the business to sell just a few cars and quit, but coal is our specialty during the winter. We will give you the best of treatment and fully guarantee our coal and our weights. We sell the best of coal and at the very lowest prices. Call on us before placing your order, and buy from a regular dealer. Thanking you for past favors,

CHANGES IN INDIAN BILL

Washington, Nov. 30.—The house committee on Indian Affairs has delegated Chairman Burke and Representatives Campbell of Kansas and Stephens of Texas as a subcommittee to prepare the Indian appropriations bill. The draft of the bill now before the committee, which was prepared by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, contains several interesting changes.

The Dawes commission is allowed $200,000 this year against $300,000 last year.

There will be an appropriation of $90,000 for the continuance of the Chilocco Indian school in Northwestern Oklahoma. Last year Representative McGuire sought to have congress donate this school property amounting to 10,000 acres, to the state of Oklahoma for an asylum, but the Indian Commission, which visited the property this summer, finds it is too valuable a gift to deed to the state.

The appropriation of last year of $75,000 for general educational purposes for the Indians will not be continued; in former years this appropriation was $200,000 a year.

There will be appropriated, as last year, $30,000 to continue the work of Indian agencies, but this year the money will be available for Western Oklahoma as well as for the eastern part of the state. This means that three agencies that were closed this year will be reopened next year.

The Normal in General Assembly Today.

While the general assembly is a rest period, it is also one of the best work periods of the day. There are not many more good listeners than good speakers in the world. In the Normal all may develop this wonderful gift of hearing. This morning we had with us Mr. C. N. Pinkerton of Oklahoma City. He brings a good message to students. His real subject is Life. Said he:

"The man who owns one single grain of wheat has more than the man who owns all the other grains should the latter man have his ground into flour. One grain of wheat contains something not found in all the flour ever made in the world—that something is life. Life really means immortality. Life can never end. Some of the products of life can never die. There are surely four things which will never die:

1. You will never die. I will never die. We shall meet in the hereafter.

2. God will never die. That has been tested. He was put into the grave, but could not be held there. He can not die. He has already stood the test. You and God, then will never die, but will meet and live together.

3. Conscience will never die. What is conscience? Something within which "doth make cowards of us all." You steal my watch. Years pass by. No one knows you have watch, but you. We meet on the street and are walking together. You are much afraid. Why? That is your conscience. Conscience can never die. It may sleep. You may allow it to go to sleep in this life, but it can never die, and will wake to accuse you some day.

4. Character can never die. What is character? What we are. Not what we seem, not what folks say we are, not what you see of me, but my real self which you can not see. Character must have companionship. Choose your companions among those of whom your conscience will never be afraid nor ashamed. God will be your companion finally and forever, and is now. Character is our own building. It is up to you to build.

How will you do the work? is the question. I suggest you put a high estimate on yourself your real self. We are told not to "think of ourselves more highly than we should." But we should think rightly. Be something worth while, and think you are worth while. Character is the most valuable thing you can take out of this school. You have here a most excellent opportunity to build character. The uncrowded schools are best after all. Soon all these seats will be taken in your Chapel, but the school will not necessarily be any better, may not be so good. The smaller the school, the better your opportunity. Build here, build and build. Make tomorrow better than today.

"Over our hearts and into our lives, Shadows sometimes fall;
But the sunshine is never wholly dead,
And Heaven is shadowless over head.
And God is over all."

This talk was very much enjoyed by the student body and the faculty. We hope Mr. Pinkerton will drop down on us again some day soon.

Pontotoc Men Making Good.

Otis Weaver states that he found the stock of Pontotoc county at the legislature away up high. Roddie has been made chairman of the democratic senate caucus, while Jno. Crawford is rapidly gaining ground. J. S. Barham, our floater, is also forging to the front. These two and E. E. Jayne of Seminole county are working hand in hand and make a combination hard to beat.

What Watterson Says of Cruce.

Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal, the veteran editorial writer of the democratic party, has the following to say of Lee Cruce, governor-elect of Oklahoma:

"The democratic governor-elect of Oklahoma, whose election is now conceded by a plurality of some 20,000 votes, is Lee Cruce, who left Crittenden county, Ky., twenty years ago to seek fame and fortune in the west.

"In times past there has not been much opportunity for preferment for democrats in Crittenden county, which is the only reliable republican county in the first congressional district, the Gibraltar of Kentucky democracy. Crittenden showed some signs of republican lethargy in the recent election by choosing a democrat for county judge, but it was not very lethargic in the days when Lee Cruce was a resident of Marion, casting about for a political toe-hold. It may be that was why Mr. Cruce went west and is now growing up with the booming and blooming state of Oklahoma.

"Whether that be true or not, he has come to the front rapidly and he is now the head of the Ardmore National bank at Ardmore and is governor-elect of his adopted state.

"Mr. Cruce was born on a farm five miles from Marion forty-seven years ago. His first entry in a political contest in Oklahoma was when he was defeated by C. N. Haskell, the present governor, for the gubernatorial race and when the time came around to name a successor to Haskell he again sought the nomination. He won the race in a canter and never stopped running until he had distanced his republican competitor in the general election.

"Oklahoma is full of Kentuckians and most of them are democrats. There was little room to doubt that Cruce would be elected once he was the accepted candidate of his party."
